In Case you missed it...

Sheriff Tony Thompson

Tony Thompson came in and took questions from the audience in this unique open forum meeting. Some of the topics discussed include: the new stand-your-ground law being implemented in July, the new texting and driving law, gang crime, the use of body cameras, legalizing fireworks in Iowa, Blackhawk county being labeled as a ‘sanctuary county’, immigration, prisoner clean-up crews, permit to carry and gun safety classes just to name a few! Tony is a great speaker and this was a terrific opportunity to become more familiar and learn about your community.

Announcements

Please check out our new and improved website http://afshawkeye.wixsite.com/afshawkeye . Thanks to Joe Kuebler for all the work he did to get our website back up and looking great. You will find meeting notices and special events for our chapter.

Silica Exposure Control Workshop

Foundries must begin actively planning their compliance strategy to be ready for the new regulations on respirable silica.

This workshop will focus on to controlling silica exposure levels in the foundry, including equipment and procedures associated with the sand system process operation and maintenance, material handling, ventilation and housekeeping. The workshop will feature case studies and foundry experiences in controlling silica exposure hazards.

A friendly reminder:

When you RSVP to a Hawkeye Chapter event, we add your name to an ongoing list. At the end of the RSVP period, we give that list to the event center, and that is how they plan the amount of food to buy. There is a percentage of extra food that is added as a safety stock so we do not run out. The AFS Hawkeye Chapter has to pay for the number of guests that we RSVP for whether or not you actually show up. We do take into account uncontrollable circumstances such as illnesses and we plan accordingly. So please make sure that when you RSVP, you make every attempt possible to show up to the event or you let us know as soon as possible.

Thank you,

2016-2017 Hawkeye Chapter Board
