Presentation:

Jeff Cook, VP Sales and Marketing – Eagle Alloy, Inc.

Jeff has lived in the foundry town of Muskegon, Michigan his entire life. He lives there with his wife of 26 years, Dede. After completing his initial training in the Marine Corps Reserves in 1986 Jeff took his father’s advice and began working at Eagle Alloy, Inc., a Shell-mold steel foundry in Muskegon, as a 3rd-shift snag grinder. He performed almost all possible duties over 5 years and then joined the Sales Department in 1990. He became Sales Manager in 1994 and was named Vice President of Sales and Marketing in January of 2015. His education has come from the many classes he’s taken at Muskegon Community College and through CMI but mostly from the years he spent working on the shop floor of Eagle Alloy. After being involved in the leadership of the West Michigan AFS chapter for many years he joined the AFS National Board of Directors in 2011 and was honored to accept a nomination in 2014 to eventually become this year’s AFS President.
In Case you missed it...

Student Chapter Meeting

On October 18th, the AFS Hawkeye Student Chapter held their annual meeting at the UNI Technical Center. They started off the meeting with a “state of the union address” from Prof. Scott Giese and presentations from Nathaniel Bryant and Bo Wallace. Nate gave us a presentation about the Critical Characteristics Affecting Surface Finish Of Castings and Bo talked about his internship with a foundry in Seattle.

Announcements

The board has decided to encourage our AFS members to remain up-to-date with their AFS memberships by maintaining the current dinner price. At our first meeting in January 2017, non-members will be charged an extra $5 per plate.

A friendly reminder:
When you RSVP to a Hawkeye Chapter event, we add your name to an ongoing list. At the end of the RSVP period, we give that list to the event center, and that is how they plan the amount of food to buy. There is a percentage of extra food that is added as a safety stock so we do not run out. The AFS Hawkeye Chapter has to pay for the number of guests that we RSVP for whether or not you actually show up. We do take into account uncontrollable circumstances such as illnesses and we plan accordingly. So please make sure that when you RSVP, you make every attempt possible to show up to the event or you let us know as soon as possible.

Thank you,
2016-2017 Hawkeye Chapter Board
